Dear Stan:

The Center for Strategic and Foreign Policy Studies at the University of Chicago will be holding a seminar on "What Is Communism?" at the University's Center for Continuing Education -- 1307 East 60th Street, Chicago 60637 -- from April 7th to 9th. As you know, this is one of the most crucial subjects of the current era. The enclosure gives a list of the paperwriters and of their topics.

We are also holding a single session on Italian Communism in Washington, D.C. Tuesday evening April 5th at 8:00 p.m. at the American Enterprise Institute -- 1150 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036 -- at which Franco Ferrarotti, the Director of the Institute of Sociology at the University of Rome will assess the prospects of the Italian Communist Party and the likelihood that it will retain its democratic orientation in power and that it will permit Italy to remain in NATO as a responsible participant. Philip Geyelin, Editor of the Washington Post will comment on the talk.

We hope that you can attend one or both of the programs.

If you cannot come, we would appreciate it if you would suggest someone in your organization who should be invited.

Sincerely,
